Students of the National War College come to visit the NSB

Monday, 16 May 2011. The Deputy Head of the NSB Zdzisław Lachowski, PhD met with the group of students of National War College (NWC).

The group came to Poland as part of their study visit connected with their research. The meetings both in Poland and other countries will result in studies providing recommendations for the US strategy towards the region.

Discussion concerned different aspects of Poland's security, including energy security. NWC students thanked the Deputy Head for the time and opportunity to talk to the representatives of the National Security Bureau.
